

Bill Tilden is Cheer Leader But Germantown Academy Loses to Penn Charter Just the Same

PENN CHARTER SPOILS OPENING OF ATHLETIC FIELD IN GERMANTOWN

Takes Suburban Academy Eleven Into Camp, 20-0, in One of Hardest-Fought School Games of Year—Weiland Makes Placement Punt as Tilden Cheers

By ROBERT W. MAXWELL Sports Editor Evening Public Ledger

GERMANTOWN ACADEMY baptized a new athletic field yesterday with a defeat. The football team lost to Penn Charter in one of the hardest fought scholastic games seen here in years, and the score, 20 to 0, is not a true index to the comparison of the rival elevens. Penn Charter probably was one touchdown superior to the Germantown aggregation, but that was all. The two touchdowns in the first half were due to errors, the first coming from an intercepted forward pass and the other from a blocked kick. The score in the last period is earned.

However, Dick Merritt's boys took advantage of the mistakes of their opponents and profited greatly thereby. They furnished thrills to the large crowd which gathered not only to see the game, but also to assist in the opening of the new athletic field. Germantown alumni who played on the teams twenty and thirty years ago rubbed elbows with the pink-checked alumnus of last year. Bill Tilden, the tennis player, and one who is known all over the world, donned a white sweater and became an honorary cheer leader.

The field is situated behind the school buildings and is what one would expect to see, for it is in keeping with the wonderful surroundings. There is no fence to keep out the spectators and no grandstand seats built of concrete. There is nothing there except the field and the spectators stand along the sidelines. No admission is charged and the game is played purely for sport's sake. It is a wonderful sight to see two prep school teams of the caliber of Penn Charter and Germantown play a game where every boy plays as hard as he can and is willing to sacrifice everything to score a victory.

Germantown started off in good shape and there was little to choose between the teams in the first period. In the second, however, Germantown tried a short forward pass. The ball was passed to Fagan, who started as if he were carrying the ball through center. He stopped, however, ran back until he was 6 yards behind the line of scrimmage and threw the ball over the center of the line. Brill caught it and ran for a touchdown.

SHORTLY afterward Strong, a substitute, blocked a kick and picked up the ball. He ran 15 yards over the goal line without being touched. Those two scores took away all of the confidence of Germantown and the suburban team on the defensive after that.

Weiland Surprises With a Placement Punt ONE thing happened in the game which is worthy of mention, because it brought back what was believed to be a lost art. In the fourth period Penn Charter was stopped three times and had to kick on the fourth down. The ball was about 25 yards from the goal line and any sort of a punt would roll over for a touchback. The Germantown players knew this and played for it.

Weiland dropped back and, after receiving the ball, calmly kicked it to one side. The ball struck on the 15-yard line and then rolled out of bounds, giving Penn Charter a gain of 10 yards. One yard more and a touchback would have been called and the ball brought back to the 20-yard line.

This is the first time I have seen this placement punt this year. The big colleges are afraid to try it and the punter boots as hard from the 30-yard line as from midfield. Weiland took his time, got off the kick nicely and it was perfect.

One of the observers was Wilmer Crowell, who referred the game. Crowell appreciated the kick, because at one time he was one of the best in the country at working that same trick. Crowell was quarterback of the famous 1905 eleven at Swarthmore, and made a name for himself not only as a wonderful field general but also as a punter and drop-kicker. He once kicked a goal from the 54-yard line, and during the season averaged about twenty goals from the field. And it was harder to get the drop-kicks off than today.

But his best effort was in placing his punts to any part of the field he desired. His accuracy was uncanny, and time and again he would kick out of bounds on the 1 or 2 yard line. Weiland's kick reminded the old-timers of Crowell, and the referee admitted he was reminded of himself.

This was the thirty-fourth game between Penn Charter and Germantown, the series starting way back in 1887. Penn Charter had won twenty-one times and lost six, seven resulting in ties.

The last time Germantown won was in 1904, when the game ended 10 to 4 in its favor. However, every battle is a hard one, regardless of the size of the score, for the teams point to that one game, and there is as much spirit shown as in any Exeter-Andover or Yale-Harvard contest.

PENN CHARTER now looks like a winner in the Interscholastic League. Merritt has a small but well-coached eleven, and his system of offense seems to have baffled the other teams.

Centre Learned Its Lesson Last Year CENTRE COLLEGE, after the Harvard triumph of last Saturday, is taking things easy today, and this results a disaster which would make a name for themselves and scheduled games with any college that asked them. The result was a game with Harvard at Boston on one Saturday and Georgia Tech was played at Atlanta, Ga., one week later.

It will be remembered that Tech won and the result of the game was a big surprise. However, the vice-crackers had it all done out in advance, for no matter how good, could travel to Boston and play a hard game, and then do its best in another section of the country, the next week.

This year the schedule was changed. Instead of taking on another tough opponent, Centre plays the University of Kentucky at Danville, and it will be a practice scrimmage. Next week, however, Auburn is played at Birmingham, Ala., and the Colonels will have as hard a game as at Harvard.

UPPER comes through the season with a clean slate and Harvard expects either Princeton or Yale, we will have something that resembles a championship eleven in Danville, Va.

Boots and Saddle Scraps About Scrappers There will be no show in the National Amateur Football League. The National Amateur Football League is a game of the National Amateur Football League. The National Amateur Football League is a game of the National Amateur Football League.

GREB BATTERS WEINERT Pittsburgh Fighter Administers Severe Punishment to Newark Boxer New York, Nov. 5.—Harry Greb, the Pittsburgh middleweight, administered a severe beating to Charley Weinert in Madison Square Garden last night. Conceding fifteen pounds to the Newark boxer, Greb carried the fight to his larger opponent in every round of the contest.

GREB barely missed knocking out Weinert in the first round. He sent the Jerseyman to the canvas with a blow of the right hand, and had him dazed and reeling about the ring. His clinch and hugging Weinert managed to get to his corner with only a count of five against him.

JIM BARNES IN PAOLI GOLF BOUT

U. S. Links King One of Many Stars to Play in $500 Main Line Open Championship

BOBBY CRICKSHANK HERE

By SANDY McNBILLICK This Main Line open championship promises to be one of the season's best golf tournaments of the season.

It's something new. It will be played over the links of the Tredyffrin Country Club, which is at Paoli, Pa. You know where we mean, this next Monday, which is November 7.

It will be called the Main Line championship because that helps to locate Paoli, Pa. The entry, however, is not limited to Main Liners.

In fact, if the territory from which the entries will come continues to expand, it may be called the Eastern open championship. There isn't any such event now and Tredyffrin might as well seize on that name as any other club.

But the facts, Jim Barnes, champion of the United States, will be the leading character in the going. This fall, you know where we mean, this next Monday, which is November 7.

He has promised over the phone to be here and has verified this by letter. To win at Tredyffrin Barnes will have to step out.

Cyril Walker, Pennsylvania open champion, and Bob Cruickshank, New York State champion, will also be in the going. Cruickshank is the former Scotch amateur who has been playing sensationally over here lately. You should not call this little stocky son of the links the world's champion.

Beat Jim 'n' Jack For in the St. Joe, Mo., tournament recently Bobby entered a triple tie in this 1000-bucks affair with Jim Barnes, United States champion, and Jack Hutchinson, British champion. Who should win the play-off but Cruickshank?

Another noted entry at Paoli is Joe Sylvester, who rattled off one of the lowest scores ever made at Columbia in the last open started.

Wilfred Reid, Wilmington; Carl Anderson, New York; George Main, Essex County, George Norrie, New York; Cyril Hughes, Lancaster; Jim Skelley, Wilmington, and Ray McGovern, Pittsford, Miss., are some of the other out-of-town pros who will start.

It is considered likely that Gene Sarazen, the youthful champion, swamped Jack Hutchinson in the P. G. A. tournament, will compete here Monday, and perhaps Freddy McLeod, who played in a close-up for the U. S. title.

Every effort is being made to get hold of Walter Hagen and Willie Hunter, the British amateur champion, for entry.

Flock of Locals Few local experts, pros or amateurs, will be missing. Here is a partial line-up of the Philadelphia talent which had entered up to yesterday:

Big names for dinner: Ed Hart, J. Wood, Paul George, Hoffer, J. H. Beadle, Norman Maxwell, Jack Higgins, George Sayers, Donald Brown, Charles Hoffer, Peter Conti, Paul Teasdale, Bill Law, Jack Cannon, William Leach, Jack Sawyer, Joe Sola, John Rowe, George Griffin, Charles Fagan, Joe George, Peter, Fred, Harry, and Jim. Ed Hart, Bill Law, and Jack Cannon, William Leach, Jack Sawyer, Joe Sola, John Rowe, George Griffin, Charles Fagan, Joe George, Peter, Fred, Harry, and Jim.

More Than $500 The prize for the tournament, which will be over thirty-six holes of golf, will be $500. The prize is $250 for the winner, $100 for the runner-up, and $50 for the third place.

The entry fee is $5, and the total will make up a pool for which the entries will play. It will be split up into several purses for second, third, etc.
